

About your Trinity examiner

Peter Saunders

For the last 13 years, I have been based in Oxford, where I work as a teacher of EAP at the language support units of both Oxford Brookes University and Oxford University. I have also recently led short-term intensive courses of teacher training for the British Council in China. Two years ago I completed a Distance Master's in Educational Technology and TESOL at Manchester University with distinction. My other qualifications are a first degree (Economics and Politics) from Bath University as well as the CELTA and DELTA.

Throughout the 1990s, I taught EFL at British Council English Teaching Centres: Tokyo, Quito, Berlin, St Petersburg and Beijing.

In my spare time, I like swimming and writing book reviews.
